

Progenics Pharmaceuticals Announces Delivery of Consents and Revocations to Independent Inspector of Elections

November 8, 2019

NEW YORK, Nov. 08, 2019 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Progenics Pharmaceuticals, Inc. (NASDAQ:PGNX) ("Progenics" or the "Company"), an oncology company developing innovative targeted medicines and artificial intelligence to find, fight and follow cancer, today announced that it has delivered all consents and revocations that it has received to its independent inspector of elections in connection with the previously announced consent solicitation by Velan Capital L.P.'s ("Velan") seeking to reconstitute the Progenics Board of Directors through the removal of three directors and the election of its five nominees and certain other proposals.

Upon receipt of a preliminary count from the independent inspector, Progenics and Velan will each have an opportunity to review and challenge the validity of the consents and revocations received. Upon the completion of the review and challenge period, the independent inspector will prepare and certify a final tabulation of the results, which will then be publicly announced by Progenics.

The Company does not anticipate commenting further on the consents until the inspector has completed its tabulation and both parties have had the opportunity to review and challenge consents and revocations.
